8. The event is designed to help with Navigational skills, those taking part in the table top navigation nights may find this event useful, not timed, no set route or controls the ideal way to learn how to relate the map to the road. This is a fun event it is not a race or rally so no reason to drive like an idiot. In the event of a tie the crew visiting the most 'further away' route checks gets it.
9. Awards for 1st , 2nd , 3rd given out on the night
