[18] Nature of roads and what you need to bring

We are not placing any specific requirements on car preparation other than those detailed in the blue book at section 19. we try to utilise as much of the smooth surfaces on the site there are some small sections of gravel.

It will however be mandatory for all competing cars to carry the following items:

- Spill kit
- First aid kit
- Tow rope
- Warning triangle
- SOS/OK board
- High Vis tabard or jacket

[20] Procedure in case of an incident

Whilst competing on the event, it is essential that the following procedure is followed, failure to do so will result in disqualification!

If you stop in a test for any reason, one crew member must display either an OK board or an SOS board. This includes if you are stuck, changing a puncture or broken down.

If you are in a test and see a car stopped and they are not displaying an OK board, and you can't see the crew members moving, you must STOP! If displaying an SOS board, you must STOP.

In the event of a crash, the first car on scene should park leaving room to pass and assist if possible. The second car on scene should continue in the direction of travel and inform the nearest test official. If you are the next car on the scene and have to stop, the CoC will give you a representative test time at his discretion

If your car breaks down or you get your car stuck, please display warning triangle and OK board sensibly and when safe to do so the organisers will do what they can to assist.

[21] Marshals

As ever the event will require a large number of marshals. If you are able to offer help, please contact our chief marshal at marshals@hexhammotorclub.com
